

SPNM plans to spread its wings overseas

Arunima Sathe

The Shipping Professional Network in Mumbai (SPNM) plans to go overseas and it may establish its presence in Dubai this year. This was announced by Mr Manas Vaid, Chairman, SPNM, at its year-end gala held at Acres Club, Mumbai recently.

In his welcome speech he said, Dubai is on SPNM's 2016 charts and it is looking forward to expand in the coming year. The gathering witnessed the presence of a large number of shipping professionals, who came to strengthen their bond before they broke for Christmas and the New Year.

Speaking on the occasion, Sanjam Sahi

Gupta, President, WISTA (India), said as young associations both WISTA and SPNM have similar aspirations. The main objective is common --to enhance the quality of shipping professionals. "Networking being an important tool to build relationships and foster friendships, Manas has done a wonderful job of getting the industry together via various events," she said.

Established in 2011, SPNM is Mumbai's meeting ground for shipping professionals. It brings together professionals through various events.

Marex Media

COMMENTS

"SPNM is extremely good at its work, their events provide an occasion for industry professionals to meet and share their experience."

- Mr Sajid Merchant, Specialist in LCL/FCL for USA, Noble Shipping Pvt Ltd

"SPNM has taken the great initiative to bring shipping professionals together in an informal way." - Mr Vijay Kumar V Todi, Business Development Manager, Philton Polythene Converters Ltd

"SPNM events have always provided us with a platform where we can meet new people. It's a great way of networking and we look forward to it every time."

- Ms Vaishali Kale, Manager Exports/Imports, Seabridge Maritime

Subscription? click on marexbulletin.com