Most Promising Seafarer Association WISTA

People sharing the same profession share a deep understanding of each other and can guide and support each other best.

One such association which has proved its strength in building a stronger Shipping community is the Women's International Shipping & Trading Association (India) or WISTA, a networking organization for women at management level in the maritime industry.

Its main mission being, facilitating the exchange of contacts, information and experiences among its members, promoting and facilitating the education of its members and providing liaison with other related institutions and organizations worldwide.

Acknowledged as a professional and highly reputable shipping organization with focus on improving levels of competency in the shipping industry, WISTA attracts highly qualified people to the industry and improves the level of competency through focus on education and knowledge. Representing the organization and receiving the award was the very elegant Ms Sanjam Gupta...
